

PRESS RELEASE

12 September 2008

Free Things to Do With Kids Around Galway

Struggling to find things to do with the kids that won't strain your wallet? Take a look at www.mykidstime.ie for some great ideas on how to entertain your children in Galway City and County– for free.

Jill Holtz, one of the founders of Mykidstime.ie said, "We know how expensive activities can be for the whole family, especially in these times with the economy slowing down, so we've put some great ideas together for both indoor and outdoor activities that won't cost you a penny."

Why not try out the Kids Museum Detective Sheet, created by two local girls for Galway City Museum, a great way to spend an afternoon and find out lots of interesting things about Galway at the same time? Or, take a walk along Corrib River past The Teahouse? Or pack up some bread and feed the swans at The Claddagh?

With Mykidstime.ie, you'll find hundreds of activities for children of all age groups, at a single web address.

Mykidstime.ie is a free resource for families in Galway with a full range of listings for activities, classes and clubs for children, as well as information on services and events for families.

Parents can also sign up for a free monthly newsletter with information and suggestions for things to do, as well as regular competitions.

For more information about activities in your area log www.mykidstime.ie or email info@mykidstime.ie

ENDS

Contact details:

Jill Holtz, 0872299128, jill@mykidstime.ie